AIMS AND SCOPE
The Microbiology and Biotechnology Letters (MBL) is a journal devoted to the advancement and dissemination of scientific knowledge concerning microbiology, applied microbiology, biotechnology, bioprocess and related academic disciplines. It covers four scientific and technological categories: Molecular and Cell biology, and Microbial Isolation; Enzymes and Bioactive Compounds; Fermentation and Bioprocess Engineering; Food, Environment, and Other Topics in Biotechnology. The MBL is issued four times a year and distributed by the Korean Society for Microbiology and Biotechnology.

ABOUT MBL
Microbiology and Biotechnology Letters (Online ISSN: 2234-7305 Print ISSN: 1598-642X) is an official publication of the Korean Society for Microbiology and Biotechnology. Following the establishment of the Korean Society for Applied Microbiology in 1973, MBL was launched in June 1973, initially under the name of the Korean Journal of Applied Microbiology and Biotechnology (ISSN: 0257-2319). When the Korean Society for Applied Microbiology transformed into the Korean Society for Microbiology and Biotechnology in 2001, the journal's name was changed to the Korean Journal of Microbiology and Biotechnology (KJMB). As of January 2015 KJMB has changed its English name to Microbiology and Biotechnology Letters (MBL), while maintaining its Korean name. This change represents the incorporation of a more international focus for the journal. Microbiology and Biotechnology Letters (Microbiol. Biotechnol. Lett.) is published and distributed as a regular quarterly issue on the 28th of March, June, September and December each year. A free access journal, including full-text articles, is available for download free of charge on the journal's website (http://www.mbl.or.kr). The journal (MBL) is covered in SCOPUS, BIOSIS/Excerpta Medica, and Elsevier Biobase/Current Awareness in Biological Sciences. Copyright is reserved by the Society. The annual subscription fees are $100,000 for institutions in South Korea, and $50,000 for institutions in Korea, or $50,000 for institutions in other countries.
